Shining a Light on Disability

Sunday, November 30, 2008, 7.00 pm

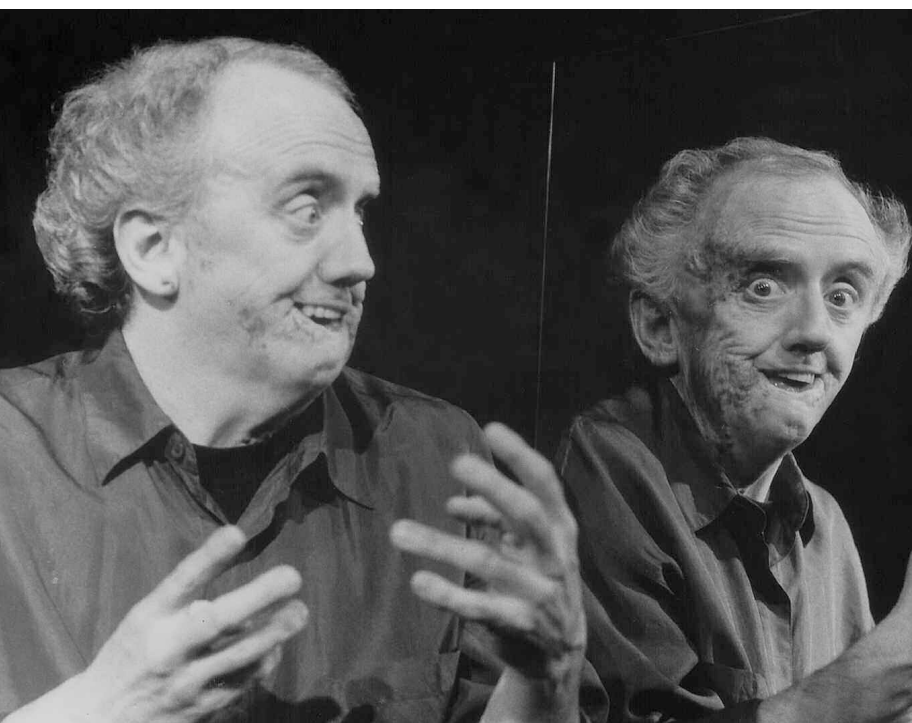

Jewish Community Centre, Norman Rothstein Theatre
950 West 41 Avenue, Vancouver, BC

Tickets: $20.00 and $12.00 for students & seniors. On sale at the JCC.
Ticket subsidies available.

The Disability Action Group (DAG), is pleased to present an evening of compelling and thought-provoking entertainment. While the two performers have faced very different challenges, both performances shine a light on life with a disability.

Now Who's Crazy Now?

In her fast-paced, one-woman play Now Who's Crazy Now?, Elly Litvak candidly brings her own personal experience living with and recovering from a serious mental illness to the stage. The play is a highly entertaining and educational piece, with a message of hope for recovery for everyone.

The Church of 80% Sincerity

"When I walk on stage, I encourage the audience to ask - What happened to your face?"
David Roche's widely acclaimed signature piece, The Church of 80% Sincerity, is an award-winning, one-man show that has played to enthusiastic audiences around the world. David is an inspirational humorist, motivational speaker and performer who has transformed the challenges and gifts of living with a facial disfigurement into a compelling and uplifting message.

This event is presented by JFSA, DAG, and the Jewish Community Centre of Greater Vancouver
